Physician Scientist Development Program
http://imr.bsd.uchicago.edu/psdp.html
The Medicine Visiting Clerkship Program (MVCP) is sponsored by the University of Chicago, Department of Medicine’s Diversity Committee. This program provides support for qualified fourth-year minority (African American, Native American, and Hispanic American) medical students to participate in internal medicine rotations through the Pritzker Medical School, Visiting Student Program. http://pritzker.bsd.uchicago.edu/students/index.html?content=visiting.html

The MVCP is designed to:

- Enhance student awareness of opportunities in academic medicine
- Encourage students to consider a career in academic internal medicine
- To increase the number of minority students applying to the University of Chicago’s Medicine training programs

Clerkships are four to five weeks in length (calendar months) and are available, space permitting, to full-time fourth-year students in good standing at LCME accredited US medical schools. MVCP participants are assigned a faculty advisor and offered opportunities to network with other University of Chicago faculty, house staff and students.

Financial assistance (up to $350) is available toward transportation costs to and from Chicago. Financial support for housing on or near the University of Chicago campus (Hyde Park) is also available.

The University of Chicago Experience
The U of C Medical Center is a nationally recognized academic center offering cutting edge clinical care to communities on the South Side of Chicago as well as to patients referred from regional and national sources. The Department of Medicine offers outstanding student and GME training programs for individuals interested in exposure to both state of the art clinical medicine and scholarship in medicine. The entire medical center is located adjacent to the main campus of the University in Hyde Park, one of Chicago’s most diverse communities.
